CORNELL WINS THE REGATTA

Wisconsin Is Second in Freshman and Varsity Eight-oar.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., June 23.—Cornell first by five lengths. Time, 10:43. Intercollegiate's Amateur association's regatta. The four oared race was a bit of easy work for Cornell, but in both the freshman and varsity races it was so closely pressed that it really had to win them in the last half mile by a display of reserve force which none of the other crews could bring to bear. The summary follows:

Indictment of the Corset.

From time to time physicians have protested against the use of the modern corset, says the Medical Record. A French medical man asserts that out of a hundred young women who wear this article only 30 retain perfect health, and proposes a law which shall forbid any woman under 30 to wear a corset of any kind. Punishment, three months of imprisonment, or, if a minor, her guardian to pay a fine of from 100 to 1,000 francs. This proposed law provides for the most rigorous formalities surrounding the manufacture and sale of these enemies to health. Those licensed to sell shall be obliged to take the name and address of every buyer, and be subject to fine and confiscation of business in case of an illegal sale.

Beloit, June 23.—(Special.)—Sunday saw the first electric car come to Beloit from Rockford over the new interurban line. The power was furnished by the local Rockford company's plant and the cars used were the large heavy cars of the Rockford-Belvidere line.

Considering the fact that the entire power had to be transmitted over the line from Rockford fast time was made. On the car was a large excursion of Rockford people.

The work on the Beloit power station is nearly completed and the superintendent at this city says that if the company had the cars on the grounds they could be placed in operation on Tuesday morning. As it is the cars will not arrive here for two weeks yet.

LOCAL TEAM LOSE
RACINE MATCH

Beaten by One Count in Saturday's Game with Lake City Players.

NO RECORDS MADE

Contest Close and Exciting, and Not Decided Until Last Pair Were In.

PLAY ROCKFORD NEXT

(By H. H. McKinney).

The Sinsinawabie golf team met their second defeat on Saturday afternoon at the hands of the Racine club by a score of 21 to 20. It was a close match and not until the last pair had finished could the result be determined.

The Sinsinawabie team after their defeat at Kenosha on Friday afternoon took the interurban to Racine where they were met at the Hotel Racine by several of the Racine club members and some of the Sinsinawabie team were taken to the club grounds where a club dancing party was being held and which lasted until early in the morning.

Go Over Grounds.

Saturday morning the members of the Sinsinawabie team went out to the links and spent the morning in golf over the course and becoming familiar with the distances and the hazards. They were all agreeably surprised with the course as they had been led to believe that it was about a fourth rate one consisting of swamps and cow pastures. They found a beautiful course of the finest kind of turf, with excellent greens. The course was guarded by five bunkers placed either to catch a poor first or second shot or to protect the greens. Each link presented a different condition doing away with the sameness encountered in a perfectly flat course. It is in reality an easy course if perfectly played but presents all sorts of difficulties to the player that does not keep in the course.

Fine Club House.

The Racine people take great interest in their club and make it a sort of a summer resort, a number of the members having handsome cottages on the grounds and spend their vacations there in preference to going away from home. They have spent a large amount of money getting their course in shape and are certainly well repaid for their trouble. They have a handsome frame club house with a large dining room, kitchen and locker rooms fitted with every convenience.

A chef is in charge of the kitchen and dining room and is ready to furnish the members with meals and luncheon at all times, which is quite convenient.

The golf course is in charge of their professional, Willie Lorimer, who is also on hand to give the members all needed instruction. Everything about the course is up to date and kept in a condition that is a credit to the club and a city the size of Racine.

Dinner was served to the Janesville boys at 12 o'clock and a 29-pound turkey had been roasted to furnish the hungry golfers with a foundation for a hard match in the afternoon.

The defeat was quite a disappointment to the Sinsinawabie team as they were confident of winning the Racine match and did not feel bad over losing the Kenosha game. They found however that Racine had some good players who were able to hold their own with the best of the Janesville team and the balance of their players easily outclassed the remainder of the Sinsinawabie team which really started out on the trip shy about five good players who could not get away.

Lose Match.

Frank K. Bull and H. S. McGiffin were the first pair to drive off and were followed by the other pairs at short intervals. At the end of the match as the players came in and handed in their scores the totals shifted from one team to the other until the thirteenth pair had finished when it was found that Janesville was 5 down with one more pair to hear from, they being Leo Brownell and J. H. Rapp. Brownell was playing a good game and it was hoped he would come in enough up to overcome the Racine lead. He finished 4 up which left the Racines 1 to the good and won the match for them. It was a very much and they had a right to feel proud of their victory.

No Records Broken.

There were no record breaking scores made on account of the heavy wind which blew across the course and made the playing difficult. As long as the ball stayed in the course the player was sure of a good lie but when out of it he was in all sorts of trouble.

Visitors from Milwaukee, Kenosha and Marquette watched the contest. The team scores were:

MINNESOTA HAS
COAL FIELDS

Bituminous Coal Discovered in Iron Regions, and Means Much Wealth for the District.

West Superior, Wis., June 23.—Further reports of a find of coal in Northern Minnesota have been received in this city from an authentic source, and although every effort is being made to keep the discovery quiet it is claimed that there is every reason to believe that the find is a big one and it is without doubt of great importance to the head of the lakes if it turns out as reported at the present time.

It is further reported that a test was made of some of the coal at the old Lehigh coke ovens in this city and that it was found to be a bituminous coal making as good coke as any that was ever used in the ovens in this city since their establishment in this city.

Today, however, good information came to the effect that a man named Davidson discovered coal and that it is located on his claim in the vicinity of Kelsey, Mich., on the Duluth, Missabe & Northern road.

The discovery of coal near this point would mean a great deal for the region. Now that iron ore is discovered and is being mined in great quantities it would mean only a little less than this discovery of iron ore and with the iron already discovered it probably means more than anything else that could happen. It would mean a revolution in the handling of ore, for with such a find of coal as is reported it would mean the manufacture of steel at Superior and at Duluth. One of the complaints in regard to making steel here is that the cost of getting coal here was too great and the result has been that scarcely anything has been done in that line.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Partly cloudy tonight and Tuesday

THE WORLD'S DEBT

"Le Matin" of Paris, a noted French statistician has recently contributed the following interesting article on
the world's debt.

Figures have a language of their own. To be sure it is not the language of flowers, it is a more rude one.
It must be said, however, that they have an eloquence of their own, against which no quibbling will stand, which is oftentimes as sharp as the knife of the gullotine and at times even causes a shiver.

I just had this feeling when reading the study of a high American official, Mr. O. P. Austin, Chief of the Official Bureau of Statistics, a sort of a transatlantic Berrillon.

"The World's Debt," is written at the front of the work, and indeed Mr. Austin deals with the debts of all the countries of the world. He does it with a sort of delight, in the temple where he assembles the budgets of all the nations, the United States, has somewhat the right of occupying the of the Pharisee of the New Testament, and looking right straight in the face of the God of Bankruptcy of exclaiming: "O, Lord! I thank thee that thou hast not made me like the Publicans of Europe, who do not know how to put a cent aside, who are given to the most shameful and unbridled squandering, and who by long strides approach bankruptcy and ruin!" And the publicans, particularly, we poor publicans of France, can but sigh, strike our breasts, and prostrate ourselves on the ground.

But listen. In 1801 the world's debt amounted in round figures to 15,000 million francs; in 1818, after the Napoleonic wars, it was 42,000 millions; in 1901 the world's national debt, then, increased within the last century by 144,000 millions; but whereas, during the first part of this century, notwithstanding the gigantic wars which then unsettled the condition of a part of the world, it increased but at the ratio of three to one, the increase during the second part of the century was at the rate of ten to one.

Listen further. Towards the increasing each nation has contributed with all its power. They seemed to be engaged in something like a race, the nations of the Old World especially rivalling each other, as to which of them would spend the most money, and acquire the most crushing debt burden.

Amidst the storm of folly which shook the world only two nations preserved their cool blood; Great Britain, which during forty years reduced its debt by 5,000 million francs; and the United States, which reduced theirs by over 7,000 million francs.
All the other nations permitted themselves to be carried away by the whirl.

The Austrian debt, which in 1850 was but 3,000 million francs, reaches at present the figures of 8,500 millions; the debt of Germany has grown from 580 millions in 1870 to 2,795 millions at present; that of Italy, which in 1869 was 7,000 million francs, is now 12,915 millions. The debt of Russia, which in 1863 was 2,000 millions exceeded in 1900 15,000 million. France is easily winner in this contest. Her debt, which in 1852 was a little over 5,000 million francs, amounts today to about 29,000 millions, or almost six times the amount in the former year, constituting almost one-fifth of the total world's indebtedness.

If the reader will stop long enough before the figures just presented to his eyes he will not have to wait long to be able to listen to their speech and to know what they say. They say that a country, as France, no matter how prosperous and great, cannot with impunity increase its public debt by 24,000 millions within 50 years, when other countries equally rich diminish their debt by about that amount within the same space of time.
They say that when a nation, as France, increases its debt by about 500 million francs a year its taxes must fatally increase, and, owing to this increase, its savings diminish.
They say that there is a point of time, when a nation, no matter how rich, can no more bear new tax burdens just as a human being, no matter how strong his energy, cannot go beyond a certain limit of effort. They say that France has now arrived at this extreme point of time, and that if during the half century to come she is to continue on the downward grade of her extravagance and mad expenditures at the same startling rate of speed which she maintained during the half century just ended, she will break down under the burden, stumble and fall.

• • • This is the language spoken by the enigmatical figures which the statisticians arrange and form in the inextinguishable Let this language be heard, for it is a matter of life.

THE POLITICAL OUTLOOK.

Republican enemics have already been held in eight counties. The administration, however, have carried Dane with 37 delegates, Waupaca 21 and Calumet, 7; a total of 65 votes.

The conservative element of the party claim Walworth 20, Rock 32, Eau Claire 18, Fond du Lac 25, Marathon 19 and Florence, 2. A total of 116 votes. The La Follette forces claim a part of Fond du Lac and Eau

Claire. Should they succeed in establishing the claim, the vote at the present time would stand Whitehead 92, La Follette 89.

There are 63 other counties to hear from, and a sharp contest is being waged in most of them. Enough is known about the situation at the present time to warrant the statement that the re-nomination of Gov. La Follette would be a grave mistake for the republican party.

The opposition to him in his home town was represented by 1080 staunch republicans, and this is the character of the opposition in all parts of the state.

It is idle to claim that this is an insignificant minority. Eliminate the democratic support and it would be a respectable majority in every instance.

The Gazette has claimed that if the governor is renominated it would be by the aid of democratic caucus support. In other words he would not be the choice of the party on whom he relies for reelection.

Just why this is not apparent to the governor as well as to his lieutenants, it is difficult to determine, and just what he or they expect to accomplish in the event of his success is also a problem.

The campaign has contributed nothing to his popularity, and has in no way improved his attitude towards the party. It must be obvious to any thinking man, however prejudiced he may be, that Gov. La Follette can never work with his party in the state. He has hopelessly antagonized the element that opposes him.

The conditions are not true of Senator Whitehead. He has never done anything to antagonize any element of the party, and his ability is generally recognized.

The outlook at the present time is very much in his favor, and if the counties yet to vote, will consider the future welfare of the party he will carry the convention by a rousing majority.

THE COUNTY CANDIDATES.

The republican county convention to nominate candidates for the various county offices, will be held at the court house, July 10. The La Follette forces made the claim three months ago that they would carry the fight into the county with a full set of candidates. The conservative element of the party accepted the challenge and the campaign has been conducted accordingly.

Two acts of tickets were put in the field for delegates to the county convention, and it was generally understood that the lines would be sharply drawn. Had La Follette carried the county the stalwart candidates for county offices would have retired in good order, knowing that they were out of the race.

An effort is being made by some of the La Follette-candidates to claim that they have been neutral, and that they are now in sympathy with the stalwart element. That simply means a scramble for the band wagon, and the effort will be futile. The lines have been too closely drawn, and voters understand the situation.

The contest for both congressional and state delegates was sharp, and the county candidates were neither lined up on one side or the other, and their attitude was thoroughly understood.

In order that there may be no mistake about the situation the Gazette will state that the following candidates have been recognized as stalwart from the opening of the campaign. There has never been any uncertainty about the attitude of any one of them, and they are the men who are entitled to the support of the stalwart delegation in the county convention.

For Sheriff, Geo. Appleby of Beloit, and Wallace Cochrane of Janesville.

For County Clerk, Wm. Ross of the town of Janesville; J. C. Rostad of Orfordville, and H. W. Lee of Fulton.

For Treasurer, Miles Rice, the present incumbent.

For District Attorney, Wm. A.
Jackson, who is now filling the office.
For Register of Deeds, Chas. Weirick of Shoplere.

For Clerk of the Court, Theo. W.
Goldin.

The La Follette candidates, and all of them have been generally recognized as La Follette men, are:

For Sheriff, I. U. Fisher Evansville.
For County Clerk, F. P. Starr, of Janesville.

For Dist. Attorney, W. O. Newhouse of Janesville.

For Register of Deeds, D. Conger and C. H. Spencer, both of Janesville.

For Clerk of the Court, Jesse Earle of Janesville.

The men on both tickets are all good men, and any one of them would fill the office to which he aspires, ac-ceptably, but the lines are drawn politically, and the convention will be governed accordingly.

June butter at 23 cents, with the best pasture that the country has seen for years, is the first effect of the "Oleo" bill. When the law goes into effect, and the feed gets short, butter will be more of a luxury than Wisconsin ice with a ten-cent tax. It is argued that there is no class legislation about the "Oleo" bill. If there is anything else about it, no one has yet discovered it.

The ex-governor from Jefferson county talks about LaFollette's victory in Dane Co., as though it was a matter of congratulation. He also claims that the governor carried Fond du Lac county.

There is a limit to endurance, and the republican party has reached the limit so far as La Follette is concerned.

The town of Rock wont need another caucus this year. The democrats have voted.

Cleveland seems to be in training for the presidency. There is a farmer in Nebraska by the name of Bryan, who has something of a following, that may prove a thorn in the flesh.

John Most the New York anarchist, has met his just desserts.

The Madison Journal is up in the air again. The paper has discovered that a majority of the republicans in Madison are against the state administration.

SMILES.

"The carpenter goes to the barber shop to have his hair shingled, and the carpenter's boy goes to the barber shop for shavings. Funny, isn't it?"
Boston Transcript.

They were out driving, and she said: "Would you ever let your love grow cold, Charlie?" And he answered, absentmindedly: "No, love, just tell me when you are growing cold, and I'll put the blanket around you."
—Yonkers Statesman.

Little Dorothy is 7 years old. She was naughty the other day, and her mother told her she would have to ask God to forgive her. The penitent little girl got down on her knees at her mother's side, and, after she had prayed in silence a short time she arose.

"And did God forgive you?" asked the mother.

"No," replied Dorothy; "He said he was busy and asked me to call again."
—Ohio State Journal.

"Look pleasant!" said the photographer.

"How can I?" snapped the man who was sitting in the rustic chair with a background of hillsides.

"What is the trouble?"

"Why, I just paid $50 for a genuine Panama, and then found a Connecticut trademark under the sweatband."
—Philadelphia Record.

STILL SWEARING.

Senator Perkins of California, who is a 'sailor man' as Senator Hanna calls the worthy tars who go down to the sea in ships, had an experience once which concerns a storm and a preacher.

The storm was a tremendous one, and it looked as though the ship was doomed to go under. In the midst of the excitement, a minister, who was one of the passengers asked the captain if he could have prayers.

"Oh, never mind about the prayers," said the captain, "the men are swearing too hard to stop for prayers, and as long as you can hear them swearing," added the captain, "there is no danger."

The minister went back to his cabin.
A little while later, when the storm grew worse, the preacher went up on deck to see what the sailors were doing. Then he went back to his wife.

"Thank God," he said, "those men are still swearing."—Washington Post.

SIMPLE FAITH.

A mother in one of the suburbs of New York, wishing to prepare the minds of her two children for a future event of great importance, told them if they would like to have a brother or sister she thought, if they prayed earnestly every night and morning, God would send them one.

In due time the desired baby arrived, to the children's great delight, and evidently to the strengthening of their faith, for the next day the father came into his wife's room, saying:

"Look here, Lizzie, this thing has got to stop. I just went into the parlor and found both those children on their knees praying for goats!"—New York Sun.

Powerful Fire Engines.

The two biggest fire engines in the world are in Liverpool, England.
These are the most powerful fire engines known, throwing 1,800 gallons of water a minute and a jet 140 feet high. The force with which the water is ejected from them may be estimated from the fact that the jet was "warranted to kill a man at 350 feet."

AT WORK ON NEW ST. PAUL DEPOT

EXCAVATION FINISHED TODAY

Mason Work Will Begin Tuesday Morning, and Work To Be Pushed on Rapidly.

The excavation for a foundation of the new Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger station is about finished and contractors, Johnson & Son, expect to start on the foundation on Tuesday morning.

Their superintendent, Harry C. Lawson, has a considerable quantity of foundation stone on hand ready for the masons and expects to have the excavation ready for them by tonight.

Their Own Masons
Johnson & Son will do their own mason work and will not subcontract. They could not get a satisfactory local mason so they decided to do the work themselves. If the good weather holds out they will soon have the foundation ready for the bricklayers.

The Location
The main part of the building will be between High and Academy streets and the baggage room and express office between High and Jackson streets.

Company Making Ready
The railroad company are having the freight cleaned out of the old freight house as rapidly as possible, so that it can be moved out of the contractors' way. The building was filled with heavy machinery, trolley wire and other things that it takes some time to move and they are delayed in the work on this account.

CELEBRATES HIS BIRTHDAY

About ninety people helped Byron Snyder of Footville celebrate the 50th anniversary of his birth June 14th. Some one hundred invitations were issued by Mr. Snyder for the occasion and there were only a few who did not attend. The evening was spent in a most pleasant manner. Edward Davis gave a gramophone entertainment that was immensely enjoyed. H. F. Pepper had entire charge of the birthday supper which was served from 6 to 8 o'clock. Mr. Pepper is not a professional caterer, but the eatables he prepared and the manner in which they were served made a reputation for him which many a professional would be glad to secure. The viands were tempting and delicious. Mr. Pepper also proved himself proficient as a decorator, the day set for the party was "flag day" and the Snyder home was profusely draped with the national colors and flowers, the supper tables were also beautifully decorated with flowers and fruits. During the evening a pleasant surprise in the form of a handsome book case and writing desk was presented to Mr. Snyder from the guests. Wm. M. Ross making the very appropriate presentation speech.

The occasion will long be remembered by those who attended and Mr. Snyder will always have a pleasant memory to look back to.

COMMON COUNCIL MEETING TONIGHT

Regular Routine. Business Will Be Gone Over—One Claim for $50 Damages Up.

There will be a regular meeting of the common council at the council chambers this evening. Nothing of particular importance has been filed with the city clerk up to today to come before the session.

Hattie S. George has filed a claim for $50 damages done to her house and lot at the corner of Prospect avenue and North Bluff street by the water overflowing the gutters and running onto the lot and into the basement of the house, doing considerable damage.

There are likely to be some protests on the construction of the interurban line filed with the clerk, some rumor to this effect being in circulation.

The cash box at the Christian Science rooms was broken open yesterday and about seventy cents in change secured. The parties who robbed the box evidently expected to get a much larger haul but were too late as the box had been opened by the officers of the church a short time before and all the money, about $30 removed. It is thought that the work was done by some one acquainted with the workings of the society and who knew about the time there would be considerable money in the box.

SHOWS MINERS' EARNING POWER

President Mitchell States That Workers Make $1.42 Per Day.

ARE FORCED TO ASK FOR MORE

Cost of Living Has Increased to the Point Where More Wages Must Be Forthcoming—Compared to Pauper Labor of Europe.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., June 23.—A dark picture of the condition of the anthracite miners of the Pennsylvania districts is painted by President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers of America in his address to the public, just issued.

Mr. Mitchell in his address shows that the earning power of the miners is less than $300 a year—$1.42 a day for fewer than 200 days of the year, to be exact—and he claims their condition is really but little above that of the pauper laborers of the old world.

The address begins with the statement that the leaders of the miners have done everything in their power to have the questions in dispute settled by arbitration, laughs to scorn the statement of the operators that they are unable to pay higher wages to their men, and gives figures to prove the point.

Killed in the Mines.
It is pointed out that more men are killed and injured in the anthracite mines of Pennsylvania annually than were killed or wounded during the Spanish-American war; and the claim is made that the miners, instead of being paid for all the coal they mine, are really forced to dig from 2,740 to 3,190 pounds before the operators will call it a ton.

The claim is made that the cost of living has increased to a point where the miner is compelled to ask for higher wages, denies the allegations of the operators that the productive capacity of the mine workers has fallen off, and quotes official figures to substantiate the contention that the employers can pay higher wages without increasing the cost of coal to the consumer; asserts that the coal-carrying railroads, which control about 85 per cent of the mines, absorb the profits of the coal companies, by charging exorbitant freight rates.

The direct statement is made in closing that in case the present union of miners is crushed, which, it is added, is not likely, a new organization that will be greater and stronger will arise from the ruins.

WOMAN HORSEWHIPS FARMER

Compelled to Apologize and Then Receives a Thrashing.

Antioch, Ill., June 23.—James Barnstable, a farmer, was horsewhipped by Mrs. D. A. Williams, wife of Postmaster Williams. The trouble arose over reports which Barnstable is said to have circulated to the effect that he had seen some young women in the nude bathing in a creek on the outskirts of the village. Williams is said to have compelled Barnstable to apologize to the young women.

Mrs. Williams requested Barnstable to accompany her to her own home, and according to the allegation of Barnstable, Mr. Williams drew a revolver and while he held Barnstable, his wife pulled the whip. The matter has been taken into the courts.

ESTIMATE OF LOSSES.

Cost of the Strike to Date is Placed at Over $35,000,000.

Indianapolis, June 23.—The sixth week of the miners' strike has closed and an estimate of the losses is as follows: Losses to operators in price of coal (normal), $15,620,000; losses to miners in wages, $7,770,000; losses to employees other than miners made idle by the strike, $1,920,000; loss to the business men of the coal region, $5,200,000; loss to the business men outside the coal region, $3,000,000; cost of maintaining coal and iron police, $400,000; cost of maintaining nonunion men, $85,000; estimated damage to mines and machinery, $1,600,000; total, $35,395,000.

Too Much Ice Cream.

Galesburg, Ill., June 23.—William Woolsey, a farmer in the eastern part of the county, is dead from too much ice cream. He partook freely of the home-made variety. He was taken with severe pains in the head. He started to work in the field, but the pains were so intense that he became unconscious. He died without recovering consciousness. Physicians attribute his death to ice cream.

Sets Fires to Escape Night Work.

Hamilton, O., June 23.—Mark Welborn, aged 16 years, confessed to setting fire to two paper mills in which he had worked. One was destroyed, the loss being $100,000. The boy says he set the fires to escape night work.

Injured in Train Collision.

Milan, Italy, June 23.—Forty-nine persons were injured, some of them seriously, as the result of a collision of two trains on the electric line between Blonschio and Porto Ceresio.

Italy Feels Earthquake.

Rome, June 23.—A violent shock of earthquake, accompanied by subterranean rumblings, is reported from Cassano Al Jonio, in the department of Calabria. No damage was done.

A MORAL MONSTER.

With the death of Ebon Dawson, who was laid to rest in the little country churchyard in Tuscarawas county, O., recently, a chapter of crime, unequalled even in border lore, has been closed, and the "finis" is written in letters of blood upon the crimson-smeared heart of a man who had committed crime enough in his life to have sent him up for life to almost every penitentiary in the union, even supposing his life had not been early cut off by the hand of the law, as it should have been on several separate occasions, for the offense of murder.

A founding, with never a bit of knowledge as to his parentage or any other relative in the world, he was in early years bound out to a farmer near Canal Dover, O., and was a playmate of the afterward notorious guerrilla, Quantrell, whose aged mother is now living in that same community, and who still clings to the belief that her son was more sinned against than sinning, for the reason, chiefly, that he was always good to her.

Dawson was not good to anybody for any length of time. He was as thoroughly bad, through and through, as any pirate who ever hit a weizard or scuttled a ship.

When but a lad at school he nearly killed an inoffensive boy who chanced to anger him by some trivial occurrence. He struck the little fellow over the head with a ball bat, and it was a question for weeks whether the child would live or not. Dawson was next arrested for leading a gang of boys on a thieving expedition one night, robbing henroosts and cellars, in order to have a big feast out in a sugar bush a couple of miles from where he lived. He clubbed the wife of the man who raised him because she refused him money to go to a circus, and then held up a small boy en route to the show, took his money from him, and with it purchased a ticket. The character of devility and wickedness manifested itself in every conceivable form.

When but 20 years of age he killed a miner named Morenci near Cannelton, O., robbed him of his wages, and fled. A year later he was captured while beating a woman to death in the Gore region of the Hocking Valley, and sent to the Ohio penitentiary, where he served a term of three years and eight months under the name of Ira Smith.

He appeared to have a penchant for mingling with the rougher class about the coal mining districts, and he soon drifted into the Lehigh Valley, where he was run out of a mining camp one night after having brutally treated a young woman, a miner's daughter, and almost beaten the father to death in a fight which subsequently ensued. He was a muscular, brawny fellow, and absolutely without fear. After his trouble in the Lehigh district he disappeared, and it was learned a few years later that he killed a man on a Mississippi river steamboat, for which he was readmitted to the Louisiana penitentiary, where he was put to hard labor for nearly seven years. He was as ugly and intractable in the pen as out of it, and was never known to make any "good time." It was his boast that he was afraid of no man, woman or child that ever trod the earth, and he gave every evidence of believing what he said in perfect sincerity. He was brutal like man and beast. Once in Wellsville, O., he was arrested for nearly beating a horse to death because the animal had kicked at him as he passed by. It is said that on more than one occasion he has caught dogs that barked at him when passing them and deliberately cut their throats.

He got mixed up with a notorious counterfeiting gang that infested Seymour and Osgood, Ind., a number of years ago, and aided not only in that work but in running other people's horses up into the then recognized horse thieves' rendezvous, Osgood. He was a blunderer, and at all times foolhardy. He would brook no words of caution, and when remonstrated with by members of the gang for a job near North Vernon, Ind., he lost his temper, as usual, and started in to kill somebody. This time he had reckoned without his host, for big Dave Hammerstein, who prided himself as being the king of Indiana counterfeits, stretched Dawson upon the floor, and then proceeded to stamp upon him with his heavy boots. Dawson's career would likely have ended then and there, had it not been for the intercession of Dawson's wife and her sister. For several weeks Dawson was laid up for repairs, and when he emerged from his hiding place he was promptly arrested, tried for stealing the horse of a farmer near Aurora, Ind., sent to Jeffersonville penitentiary, and worked a couple more years for the authorities.

Within two weeks after he was released from the Jeffersonville prison, by virtue of expiration of sentence, a man named Horace Dargness, who had been the chief witness against Dawson, was found a hundred yards from his own house one Sunday afternoon, stone dead, with a bullet hole through his back and heart. There were no witnesses to the crime, but few questioned the conjecture that Dawson had killed him out of sheer revenge, especially as Dawson had been seen in that community a day or two before.

Then he disappeared for a time. He was growing older, uglier, more vindictive, and was, in fact, without a friend upon earth. He had not the slightest respect for the opposite sex, and usually put himself out to make himself as obnoxious as possible to them whenever any of them attempted to make any overtures toward him. He never married, although he is known to have lived with a squaw in Indian Territory for a time, and it is said that when he tired of her he killed her in a fit of anger and fled the country, only to land in Sing Sing for a short term for attempting to hold up and rob a wealthy manufacturer in a small town in eastern New York, in which act he was detected and caught redhanded, despite the vicious fight he put up to prevent capture.

Dawson was treacherous and absolutely untrustworthy to or with anybody. He would rob the hand that fed him or administered to his other wants with just as much wantonness as he would his worst enemy. During the last few years the infirmities of age began to creep upon him. He contracted rheumatism, which kept him in a Virginia hospital for a time, and from there he drifted to Sparta, Wis., where lived a man with whom he had trained in various channels of crime. He had saved up a little money, and settled down to a quiet life for a time, for the only reason that he was unable to commit any more deeds of villainy. His acquaintance sheltered him, and he remained with the family, under the plain name of John J. Smith, until his death, when, by his request, his remains were shipped back to Tuscarawas county, O., and buried near the place where his boyhood days were spent. This was the only indication of sentiment the man was ever known to develop, and this came only with the approach of death, for which he evinced not the slightest fear, nor did he manifest the slightest repentance. He died as he had lived, one of the wickedest men of earth since the days of Nero.

The Epitaph.
We criticize him living.
But after he is dead
Our praise is so high-sounding
It goes above his head.

Carried Over the Dam.

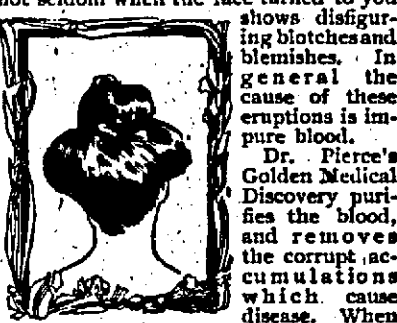

Springfield, Ill., June 23.—Will Brownback and Orval Waters, both of Edinburg and each 19 years old, were carried over a dam in the north fork of the Sangamon river in a rowboat and drowned. The accident occurred twelve miles east of Springfield in the presence of a picnic party. Neither body was recovered. Brownback was the son of William Brownback, a banker, and Waters was the son of George Waters, a retired farmer.

Diver Lambert Hurt.

Niles, Mich., June 23.—Jack Lambert, known throughout the country as a daring high diver, collided with a wheelman here. Lambert was hurled from his wheel and sustained a compound fracture of the left leg. His physician says amputation will be necessary.

Would You Think It?

Would you think it possible that you could be disappointed in the face of a woman whose shapely shoulders, and beautiful hair suggest womanly perfection and beauty? Such disappointment comes not seldom when the face turned to you shows disfiguring blotches and blemishes. In general the cause of these eruptions is impure blood.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood, and removes the corrupt accumulations which cause disease. When the blood is cleansed, pimples, teeter, salt-rheum, boils, sores, and other results of impure blood, are perfectly and permanently cured.

For three years I suffered with that dreaded disease eczema," writes Mrs. J. Koepf, of Herman, Oregon. "I was told to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which I did, and after I had taken fourteen bottles I was permanently cured. It has been a year since I stopped taking your medicine and it has never appeared since. I think your medicine a wonderful cure and hope others suffering as I did, will take it and be relieved of their suffering."

Some of the most remarkable cures effected by "Golden Medical Discovery," have been of scrofulous diseases.

"I will forever thank you for advising me to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mrs. Jas. Murphy, of Fond du Lac, Wis. "I had been afflicted with chronic eczema of twelve years' standing. I had doctored for the trouble until I was completely discouraged. I also had chronic wartha for twelve years. It is a good health now—better than I ever was in my life, owing to Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took several bottles of the 'Discovery' before I stopped."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure diseases and sick headache.

Parents' Responsibility Great responsibility, and how important that no taint of disease is left in the blood to be transmitted to the helpless child, entailing the most pitiable suffering, and marking its little body with offensive sores and eruptions, catarrh of the nose and throat, weak eyes, glandular swellings, brittle bones, white swelling and deformity.

How can parents look upon such little sufferers and not reproach themselves for bringing so much misery into the world? If you have any disease lurking in your system, how can you expect well developed, healthy children? Cleanse your own blood and build up your health, and you have not only enlarged your capacity for the enjoyment of the pleasures of life, but have discharged a duty all parents owe to posterity, and made mankind healthier and happier.

There is no remedy that so surely reaches deep-seated, stubborn blood troubles as S. S. S. It searches out even hereditary poisons, and removes every taint from the blood, and builds up the general health. If weaklings are growing up around you, right the wrong by putting them on a course of S. S. S. at once. It is a purely vegetable medicine, harmless in its effects, and can be taken by both old and young without fear of any bad results.

Write us about your case, and let our physicians advise and help you. This will cost you nothing, and we will also send our book on blood and skin diseases.

FOOLED THE WATCHMAN.

Two Chicago Boys Made a Noise Like a Cat and Then Stole All Sorts of Junk.

Joseph Caladonna, who is 15 years old, and John Felone, who is four years younger, were before Justice Dooley in the Maxwell street police court at Chicago to answer to the charge of stealing iron from a Hinkley street junk yard. The evidence showed that a few nights ago young Felone was in the yard and his movements awoke the watchman.

"Who's there?" demanded the watchman, as he raised his gun to shoot. It was a critical moment, but the boy was quick to think.

"DON'T SHOOT, MR. WATCHMAN."

"Meow, meow," he said. "Oh, it's only a cat," said the watchman. "I thought somebody was stealing again."

The boy escaped safely, and in company with Caladonna returned the following night. Caladonna volunteered to invade the junk yard.

"If the watchman wakes up, just make him believe you are a cat," advised Felone. "Just say 'meow, meow,' and he won't bother you. I worked that game on him myself."

Caladonna entered the yard, but in moving about, slipped and made a slight noise, which aroused the watchman.

"Who's there?" demanded the watchman, moving slowly forward. "Speak or I'll shoot."

Caladonna was so excited that he forgot his orders. Suddenly, however he remembered and shouted:

"Don't shoot, Mr. Watchman; I'm a cat, meow, meow." The boy's arrest followed and later his companion was taken into custody.

CAT RETRIEVES BIRDS.

His Master Considers Bob the Brightest and Most Educated Feline That Ever Lived.

Bob is a cat, and in St. Louis, where he lives, he is heralded as the most remarkable cat that ever lived. He does so many queer things that his owner, Mr. Ezekiah Gregg, is convinced that he is possessed of a vein of humorous intelligence.

This cat is 11 years old and a natural born aristocrat. He eats at a table, and always washes his face before sitting down. He goes to bed at nine p. m. and sleeps 12 hours. This is his unvarying rule. He goes hunting with his master and retrieves as satisfactorily as any dog ever did. He can open doors by twisting the knobs in his strong paws, and, strange

BOB GOES HUNTING.

To relate, his bosom friend and constant companion is a dog.

Bob is a big, mouse-colored fellow and weighs 15 pounds. He never indulges in nightly orgies, but instead sleeps in a real bed, all covered up while other common cats are singing on alley fences and fighting. In the morning he gets up without being called, and the first thing he does after rolling out of his novel little bed is to wash his face in a serious manner with his front paws.

His breakfast consists of a piece of beefsteak, some raw potatoes and bread. He does not eat with his mouth in the plate, but carefully lifts the food in his paws and places it in his mouth.

Bob's mother lived to be 15 years old, and was also a wonder.
